

MAMLS at VCU

The Mid-Atlantic Mathematical Logic Seminar (MAMLS) at VCU will be a gathering of set theorists working on large cardinals, inner models, forcing and relative consistency results.

Saturday - Sunday
April 1 - April 2
2017

Temple Building Room 1165

Speakers

Omer Ben-Neria University of California at Los Angeles

James Cummings Carnegie Mellon University

Monroe Eskew Virginia Commonwealth University

Victoria Gitman City University of New York

Joel David Hamkins City University of New York

John Krueger University of North Texas

Dima Sinapova University of Illinois at Chicago

Hugh Woodin Harvard University

For more information, visit: <http://www.people.vcu.edu/~bmcody/mamls2017>

Organizing committee: Brent Cody and Sean Cox

The conference will be supported by Virginia Commonwealth University and by NSF funds via MAMLS administered through CUNY by Arthur Apter.

National Science Foundation
WHERE DISCOVERIES BEGIN

Mathematics and Applied Mathematics
Virginia Commonwealth University